3. Jan Proper, Nurse Educator

Hi, I volunteer for hospice in the summer for their children's grief camp and I am looking into certifying my dog as an certified activity/therapy dog. Then he and I will visit such places as the hospice home, WBI, nursing homes etc.

4. Cassady Hoff, Occupational Therapy Assistant Program

I do the following: Occupational Therapy services and take along my OTA students to 5-Trails which is an adult day center for people who can't stay at home alone during the day, Circle-C Resources where I helped designed a sensory room for their clients and I do exercise groups. I am a member of the National Ski Patrol on Casper Mountain, I also play in a country/bluegrass band. I am a member and participant of the Wyoming Occupational Therapy Association, as well as our American Occupational Therapy Association.

5. Jennifer Cowell, Music (Strings/Orchestra) Instructor

Here are some community activities that I am involved with:

1. Wyoming Symphony Orchestra associate concertmaster
2. Casper Youth Orchestra board member and instructor
3. Boys and Girls club T-ball and soccer coach for grades 1-3
4. Casper Star Lane presenter on several occasions

6. Linda Davis

Casper College Career Center

I am serving on a volunteer Board for a water district in the area where I live. Right now water in Wyoming is an important issue. It has not been a fun board to serve on because people don't always like the decisions that are made, but it is an important board to volunteer for. I am the President of the Board for the Thirty Three Mile Road Improvement & Service District.

7. Ann Dalton, The Center for Training & Development at Casper College Workforce Specialist

I wanted to give you feed back about activities that I am involved in outside of Casper College -

I hope this is what you are looking for:

Crest Hill PTO - WAYS & MEANS (fund-raising) chair for 2 years and am currently the TREASURER

Dean Morgan PTO - involved parent - just starting to get involved - will volunteer when needed

First United Methodist Church - Sunday School teach - 3 & 4 year class room

First United Methodist Church - SPR Committee - Staff Parish Relations

8. Carmen M. Simone, Ph.D., Vice President, Academic Affairs

I am a member of the Five Trails Rotary Club and I serve on their board.

I also serve on the board of the Science Zone.

We hired Laura Driscoll to be a community contact for workforce development training - she has networked extensively with the business community.

9. Dave Arndt, Electronics Instructor

I am a coach for the St. Anthony School Lego Robotics Team. I help to teach the junior high students how to program the robots.

10. Linda Nix, Alumni Coordinator

I understand that you are gathering information about community involvement. Here is what I'm currently doing:

Trustee and Clerk - Board of Natrona County School District #1. In conjunction with the position, I serve on several committees. You may not need them, but here they are:

Chairman of the Facilities and Technology Committee; member of the Compact Issue Committee, Member of the Scenario Writing and Planning committee, Member of the Business Services and Budget Planning Committee, and Superintendent Search Committee. (There are a few more that all board members are ex-officio members, but I'll skip those).

Chairman - Joint Powers Recreation Board for Natrona County

Organizer/co-facilitator (with Kate Sarosy) - Non-denominational Spirituality Book Discussion Group

Member - Worship Committee for First Congregational UCC

11. Vicki Pollock, Lifelong Learning Specialist

1. I'm currently serving on the board of the Wyoming Lifelong Learning Association. I was just appointed and have not attended a meeting yet.

2. Part of a local animal rescue group. Getting dogs out of Metro and transporting them to no-kill shelters.

3. Volunteer for the Wyoming Game and Fish Dept. Usually I man a Hunter Checkpoint during hunting season, but have also been involved in other projects.

4. Wyoming Audubon Society, I'm not a member but I have worked on their summer bird mapping project and will be assisting with the fall migration bird survey.

12. Joanne Theobald, LCSW, Counselor, Casper College Counseling and Student Development Center

I serve on the Community Corrections Board (we screen applicants from the state pen who wish to be at the Casper Re-Entry Center's work release program) and I chair the Natrona County Eating Disorders Task Force. I don't know if playing on a community rec volleyball team, or being in a book club counts, but I do that too.

13. Shawn Powell, Psychology Instructor

I am involved in the following state organizations: Wyoming School Psychology Association (Immediate Past President) and the Wyoming Acquired Brain Injury Task Force (Member). I am also a member of the Air National Guard, I don't know if you want that or not.

14. Jeff Sun, GIS Instructor

In my Advanced GIS class (Geog 2100), there are 10 students. I have the students split up into 3 groups.

Group 1. Composed of 4 students. They are using GPS units and GPSing all the commercial trash dumpsters for the city of Casper. They are building a Spatial database of where the trash containers are, the condition of the containers, and developing optimum routes for the Truck drivers to go around the city and collect the garbage in the containers

Group 2. Composed of 3 students. They are using GPS units to GPS all the city parks in Casper and catalog the amenities in the parks. Such as swing sets, benches. etc etc.....

They are also building a spatial data base and maps for the city of Casper.

Group 3. Composed of 3 students. They are using GPS units and mapping the Audubon property on Garden Creek road for the Audubon Society. They will be making maps of the trails, birding stations, the outside boundary of the property and creating maps for pamphlets that will be handed out to the public that visit the property.

All three groups will present their data and maps to the clients at the end of the semester in a presentation. If you have any other questions please get a hold of me.

15. Gretchen Wheeler, Communication Department

Casper Children's Theatre

Wyoming High School Activities Association

Natrona County and Kelly Walsh High School Forensics Programs

Central Wyoming Rescue Mission

16. Thom DeVoogd, Education Instructor

So far just a member of the PTA at Grant School...

17. James Olm, Musical Theatre

18. Rich Fujita, Director of College Relations

I coach my son's Casper Soccer Club team, and I am active in the Casper Curling Club.

19. Kendall Jacobs, Mathematics Department

I work closely with the planetarium - Among other things, I do a monthly star walk for them (on a volunteer basis) - I have also done star shows for Fort Laramie(annually), Fossil Butte National Monument and many boy scout/youth groups. This past year I helped the planetarium write BOCES and Recreation board grants to upgrade their star machine - I have also written several Wyoming Space Grants that have enabled them to hire some of our elementary education majors to work at the planetarium during the summer months. I have been volunteering at the planetarium for about 7 years.

I am on a team (with Jon Blesi and several teachers from NCSD - including the teachers on special assignment (TOSAS)) to promote FIRST Lego Robotics in Wyoming -The project is for elementary kids ages 9-14 and is designed to help increase interest in math, science and technology. This year our state tournament is at the events center on December 1 - we expect about 50 teams (500 kids). I also have my elementary education majors involved in this project. This year one of my former students is serving as the coach for the Gear Up team. I have helped them with the grants, coaches training, and assisting in organizing the tournament. This is my second year working with Robotics.

I have served on the Boy Scout District Committee for about 3 years - I am currently the activities chair - which means I have responsibility over Cub Scout Day Camp, Scout O' Rama, and Cub Snow Days. I also serve as a Merit Badge councilor for Space Exploration, Astronomy, and Geology.

20. Mike McLemore, Media Services

I'm the Treasurer for the Casper Mtn. Ski Patrol and one of their ski/toboggan instructors.

21. Floyd Kelly, Chemistry Instructor

31. Paul Hallock: Executive Director of College Foundation

I'm not currently on any major committees for the city or the county, although I have previously chaired Natrona County Senior Citizens, sat on the county's Human Service Commission, sat on a Chamber committee or two, and various local, regional, and national boards for my church. In fact, I just completed a 6-year term on our regional church foundation board. This past year I was asked by the Casper Journal to sit on a committee that would ultimately recognize 63 Wyoming individuals who have made successful contributions to their communities in Wyoming, their state, and their country.

I will serve on a similar committee this year later. I also am chair of the Wyoming Community College Foundation directors at the current time. Enough. We all could go on and on with what and how we do. Please let me know if you have any other questions.

Paul

32. Ardell Knudsen, Engineering Instructor

I am faculty sponsor for Campus Ventures, a religious group that usually does several community projects. Each spring there is a weekend retreat, usually in Casper. The normal Saturday afternoon activity for the 80 - 100 participants has been to volunteer at the Central WY Rescue mission or to offer some service opportunity including some clean up work. In the past I think a lot of the mission has been cleaned and painted.

Several years there has been a Saturday yard clean up for some elderly women who do not have assistance from neighbors or grandchildren or such. This has usually been coordinated by an education major who had some contacts or some church connections.

It has been a great success. International Students: Over the years I have taken many of the students to elementary school classrooms for presentations. The students of course do all the work, but I have been the connection between the students and the elementary classrooms and it has been very successful and rewarding for all I think.

Visual Arts Partnerships

Articulation Agreements

Visual Arts has articulation agreements with the following institutions:

The University of Wyoming
Black Hills State University
The University of North Dakota
Chadron State University
Montana State University
Atlanta International University
Rocky Mountain College of Art and Design

Nicolaysen Art Museum

The Department of Visual Arts has an agreement with the Nicolaysen Art Museum that allows art students wishing to gain experience in the inner workings of a museum to work there while earning elective art credits.

In addition, Museum Studies majors may elect to complete their required museum internship at the Nicolaysen Art Museum where they can experience curatorial duties, registration methods as well as planning educational activities.

The NIC hosts the annual juried exhibition for graduating art students in the Rosenthal Community Art Gallery. This is a juried show that provides the Professional Practices class experience in installation of a show in a professional setting.

Graphic Design

The Graphic Design Program provides students with the opportunity to work with local businesses on various design projects. For example, students will work on a digital design project that is sponsored by a local business. The business usually donates a small sum of money that a student can win for executing the highest quality project.

The Program also helps local businesses by referring design students to businesses that have design related job openings.

Wood Fire Gathering

The 2007 Wyoming High School Art Symposium was used as an opportunity to invite many fellow ceramic instructors, college and high school, students and professional artists from the state and region to a wood fire gathering and workshop here at Casper College. Three Wyoming college instructors and students, four Wyoming artists and artists from Colorado and Montana joined us and enjoyed four days of loading, firing and work shopping with a top artist in Ceramics. The success of the event has encouraged an idea for this becoming an annual event of sharing and learning.

We're in the process of adding a new addition of 14 classrooms to the center! I attend Highland Park Community Church, where I have helped with children's programming and currently assist in serving communion. I help with Wyoming Cares, formally Casper Cares, Casper Reads, a book day celebration in memory of Sue Jorgensen. It'll be our 10th year this May. Last year every school district in Wyoming participated. As SWEA faculty advisor, we cosponsor Read Across America with the public library. Every March we provide an evening of Dr. Seuss activities for the children at the library and give away free books.

61. Pat Patton, Music (Voice and Choirs) Instructor

The Casper College Choir program is significantly involved in community functions.

1. The Lion's Club of Casper offers the Lion's Camp in September for our choir retreat in exchange for a concert sometime during the year.
2. The Men's Choir serves as our "Outreach Performing Organization" and performs throughout the community for various meetings and events.
3. The Collegiate Chorale will join the University of Wyoming Orchestra, Jazz Ensemble, The Cheyenne Chamber Singers, and Lyman High School Concert Choir in a performance celebrating the 50th (I think) anniversary of the Wyoming Council for the Arts on October 19th.
4. The 8 Madrigal Feaste performances are a tradition in Casper and involve the entire Fine Arts Division.
5. The choirs incorporate an annual 4-concert series that is presented in various churches throughout the community. Outreach to the church community is significant in these performances. Furthermore, the reason for church performances is due to the fact that no concert hall in the community of on campus is acoustically satisfying for choral or instrumental performances. Our churches are great hosts and enjoy showing off their facilities.
6. I will travel to Newcastle, Riverton, and Mountain View this year as a guest choral conductor for district choral festivals as well as an in-school consultant to assist choirs with their programs and actively recruit for Casper College ... I have done these things for the 30 years I've been at the school.

Finally, these are only a few outreach things that I do that may fall into the category of community involvement. I have copied some of our own faculty and division administration so they can include the many things they are doing as well.

90. Robyn Landen, Associate Controller:

Leadership Casper 2006-2008. Volunteer for my daughter's dance troupe - Dance Evolutions

91. Ginger Cooper, Writing Center Director:

My community involvement is thus: I am a co-facilitator of a Socrates Cafe discussion group. Toni Hollen and I decided that we could serve our community by starting a discussion group that encourages reflection and exploration of philosophy in daily life. Our discussion group began with just the two of us, but it's grown to six regular attendees over three meetings. The people who come to Socrates Cafe are largely Casper College students, but we hope that more people will become interested as word gets out. Toni and I have talked about expanding Socrates Cafe and also making it available to interested grade school, middle school, and high school students.

Christopher Philip's book, Socrates Cafe, inspired us to follow his example and promote Socrates' idea that "the unexamined life is not worth living," and we believe that our discussion group offers the community a social moment of reflection. Topics have included the following: the overwhelming role of technology in daily life, the role of religion in societies, the oddities of human behavior and beliefs. Currently, we meet Wednesday evenings at the Writing Center, 7-8:30 P.M.

92. Barb Meryhew, Housing/Student Activities Director:

As for the involvement in community activities that SAB/Intramurals and housing participate in we work with Meals On Wheels, United Blood Services, and the March of Dimes.
