Course Description: Applying accounting fundamentals to solving problems with the microcomputer. Specifically Quickbooks 2015. Problems involve cash journals, general ledger, and related topics. Preparing and interpreting statements of a financial nature.

Required Text and Materials:
Computer Accounting with QuickBooks 2015, 17th Edition, by Donna Kay. McGraw-Hill Publisher. Students need to have Microsoft Excel available and some basic knowledge of its use. Student will need a jump (thumb) drive as well.

Prerequisites: ACCT 2010, keyboarding skill, basic knowledge and skill with Excel or permission of instructor.

Outcomes:
1. Solve problems using critical thinking and creativity
2. Use quantitative analytical skills to evaluate and process numerical data

Course Objectives:
1. Students will apply accounting terms, concepts, principles and procedures applicable to a business using QuickBooks 2015.
2. Students will perform and evaluate software setup procedures, data entry and manipulation, information retrieval, and trouble shooting in the QuickBooks environment.
3. Students will perform at a minimum of a 70% average on homework, quizzes, exams and projects to demonstrate these abilities.
Methodology: This is an online class where the student will work through a variety of exercises and projects using QuickBooks software. Students will use the “Go Paperless” method of submitting their assignments in the Moodle shell for this class. Always add your name to the company name.

Evaluation Criteria:

Homework: There will be 12 End-of-chapter quizzes worth approximately 10 points each and 12 End-of-chapter spreadsheet transmittals worth varying points as indicated on the Daily Schedule. Late assignments will incur a 50% deduction for the 1st week following the due date and will not be accepted after that.

Exams: There will be 2 exams worth 100 points each and a comprehensive final exam project worth 200 points. The questions on the first two exams are True/False, Multiple Choice, Fill-in and possibly problems from the chapter. The Final will be a comprehensive problem you will do through the QuickBooks software and submit. Make-up exams will only be given under extreme circumstances.

Participation: Forum Discussions will be open for each chapter and students are encouraged to use these to ask questions or help other students with questions regarding the software and assignments. Students will be given up to 5 bonus points for each chapter if they post in these forums. Each post will be given one point of credit if it meets the criteria given in the forum rubric in the Moodle shell.
