Course Description: Faculty guided research in an area of mutual interest to the student and instructor within the field of criminal justice.

Statement of Prerequisites: POLS/CRMJ 2120 and sophomore standing or permission of the instructor.

Goal: This course will place a student in a criminal justice agency for a few hours per week for one semester as an observer. It will afford the pre-service student the opportunity to observe the workings of the criminal justice system, and the in-service student an opportunity to work in a collateral criminal justice agency.

Outcomes: Upon completion of this course, the student will be able to create a written description of the operations of the observed agency and its employees. In addition, the student will be able to compare and contrast this agency and its operations with those identified in texts and other college courses and evaluate these operations in terms of the legal standards and organizational values discussed in those courses.

Methodology: Faculty guided research and self-directed learning.

Evaluation Criteria:

STANDARD TERM PAPER: A standard term paper consists of library research and perhaps interviews with qualified individuals in an effort to gain a deeper understanding of a specific topic related to criminal justice and approved by the instructor. Each student is expected to:

- Become familiar with the library resources available at Casper College.
- Submit an outline of the term paper: A basic description of the major topics and sub-topics anticipated for the paper. Significant penalty if late.
• Submit a bibliography: A complete list of the resources that the student used as reference material in the term paper is required. A minimum of five sources is required for a standard paper. No more than two of the sources can be from the internet (not originally published in hard copy in a magazine, journal or book). Sources must be current, (Not more than 2 years old), unless they are used to describe an historical perspective. The bibliography is due with research paper.

• Submit a completed document, word processed in 12 pt. font, single spaced with 1” margins at the top, bottom and sides. The paper shall be no less than five pages for a one credit hour class, ten pages for a two credit hour class and fifteen pages for a three credit hour class. Length does not include the cover page(s) or the bibliography. Each page, after the first shall be numbered. The paper must be a product of the student’s own industry. This means that the student is to research, organize, write and word process his or her own document. Utilizing a term paper that is not the product of the student's own work constitutes academic dishonesty. Academic dishonesty will result in a failing grade in the class.

• Create a paper that is a combination of the student's personal opinions, information from other college courses, interviews (where appropriate) and information from library sources. The skill of the student is required to blend these sources of information into a concise and informative paper. NO LATE SUBMISSIONS ACCEPTED.

NON-STANDARD TERM PAPER: A non-standard paper is used when the instructor assigns the student to read a specified text or other material and then complete a series of essays about the assigned work(s). Each student completing a non-standard paper is expected to submit a completed document, word processed in 12 pt. font, single-spaced with 1” margins at the top, bottom and sides. Length requirements do not include the cover page(s) or any bibliography. Each page, after the first shall be numbered. The paper must be a product of the student’s own industry. This means that the student is to research, organize, write and word process his or her own document. Utilizing a term paper that is not the product of the student's own work constitutes academic dishonesty. Academic dishonesty will result in a failing grade in the class. The following bullets describe the non-standard paper in greater detail.

• In a non-standard term paper, the number and type of sources that the student will utilize will be assigned by the instructor.
• An outline is NOT REQUIRED.
• A bibliography is only required if the student uses additional sources beyond those assigned.
• Each essay shall be carefully labeled so as to identify the material from which the answer was obtained.
• Specific quotes, statistics, and detailed examples must have a page number of the source document reflected in the body of the essay following the entry. For example - (Author, p.192).
• The volume of writing required in a non-standard term paper is equivalent to the writing required in a standard term paper, fifteen single-spaced pages for three credits, ten pages for two credits and five pages for one credit.

For all term papers - on time submission of the paper is part of the grading criteria. NO LATE SUBMISSIONS OF THE FINAL PAPER WILL BE ACCEPTED. Please be certain to make your submissions on or before the due date. Anticipate problems with your computer, printer,
